Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge No. 111 ---- Vol. 138 No. 2 --- April 2002 ---- Jared Willis, Editor

Wa-Hi-Nasa prepares for Conclave 2002

The SR 6N Conclave, next to NOAC, is the biggest event our lodge attends. Don't know much about Conclave? We can change that! Remember what the Fall Fellowship was like? Now, imagine 9 lodges doing the same thing at the same time and at the same place. That is Conclave. Conclave this year is April 26 - 28, 2002. All of the lodges in the Section attend it. It's huge, gigantic, and massive. Did I mention it's big?

As mentioned, Conclave is a larger version of Fall Fellowship, and there will be training, fellowship, section elections, food, fun, patch trading, and, most of all, the Quest for the Golden Arrow. Now you are wondering what the Quest for the Golden Arrow is? Aren't you???!! It is a series of activities that you receive points for, and the lodge with the highest number of points after all the judging is completed will be awarded the Quest for the Golden Arrow trophy. Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge won the Quest for the Golden Arrow trophy for the third time in a row last year, and was able to retire that trophy. It can be seen in the lodge with the one that Wa-Hi-Nasa retired earlier. We need another one!!

Wa-Hi-Nasa Arrowmen revel over their Quest victory at the 2001 Conclave.

This year Conclave will be held at Camp Crooked Creek, in Shepardsville, KY, about 30 miles south of Louisville in the Lincoln Heritage Council. It will be hosted by Talligewi Lodge 62. Our lodge will be taking a chartered bus. That's right, watch TV, fellowship, sleep or whatever and let someone drive you to Conclave. A $27 fee (plus the cost of transportation, $25), due in the Middle Tennessee Council office by March 14, will reserve you a seat. You need to bring your own tent and camping

2002 Spring Ordeal Approaches

by Tyler Belew

With winter's departure and spring's arrival, we draw nearer and nearer to that favorite part of the year: summer. School's out and it's time to go and spend our time at camp with "the Boys." But before anyone can enjoy the simple pleasures of the high life at Boxwell Scout Reservation, someone has to get it ready, which is where we come in. The Spring Ordeal will be the weekend of May 31 through June 2 and will cost $12 for those members who do not have a gold card (Elangomats get in free). Everyone should pre-register for this event whether you have a card or not.

For those of you who have only seen the ordeal from the standpoint of a candidate, I urge you to come and see what members do to make the weekend a success. Come and get involved in ceremonies, in the NEW member work crews, or as an Elangomat. Get your hands dirty for a good and worthwhile cause.

Chiefly Speaking...

Wa-Hi-Nasa is blazing through the year at a tremendous rate. I look at my calendar, and I cannot believe it is already March. The Ceremonies Workshop Weekend was a success, a huge thanks goes to Matt Lange and Diane Gregory for seeing the vision and bringing it into reality, also, a big pat on the back to all the competent staff and trainers. If you missed this workshop, you have another chance to receive this premium training, from April 19-21 at Boxwell Reservation.

OAU is the next thing that the Executive committee has set its sights on. This year's event looks to be as successful as ever, with new intramural games, and even more intense training from Wa-Hi-Nasa's talented trainers. Conclave will be April 26-28. Our Quest team still needs your support, if you want your name recorded in Lodge history forever, join the team that is aiming for the forth Quest championship title in a row. Contact Tripp Arnold if you are interested in participating.

This is all that has come across my desk at this time, thank you for your time, and thank you for your continued support of this great Lodge.

Yours in Service,

James Cartwright

equipment. The lodge will camp together.

The Council of Chiefs for the section has set the price for 2002 Conclave at $27 (walk-on: $32). This includes your meals: Friday night cracker barrel, Saturday - breakfast, lunch and dinner, Sunday breakfast, 2002 Conclave patch and other items of interest. There will be trading post set up so that you can purchase OA items, section items and snacks. So, bring extra money.

The lodge has pledged 111 Arrowmen to attend. Show the other lodges how much spirit Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge has and lets meet the goal of 111 Arrowmen.

Any youth Arrowman that is interested in being on the Quest team needs to contact Quest chairman Tripp Arnold at 615-446-1062 or by email at tripp_arnold@hotmail.com, and each arrowman that is on the Quest team will receive a Quest t-shirt.

Brotherhood

Attention all Ordeal members!!!! If you are an Ordeal member of the Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge, then it is time that you take your next step in the OA and advance to Brotherhood. In order to qualify, you must have served 10 months or longer as an Ordeal member. You must also be registered with the Boy Scouts and with the Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge for 2002. If you have met these requirements, then you can begin your journey to Brotherhood today by memorizing the Order of the Arrow Obligation, the Official Song, and the Admonition. Brotherhood candidates must also write a letter of intent, explained in the Brotherhood handbook. The Wa-Hi-Nasa Trail to Brotherhood Hanbook can be found online at www.wa-hi-nasa.org under the Brotherhood section of The Wheel. The handbook explains the requirements for Brotherhood in detail. Brotherhood ceremonies are performed at both Ordeals and at the Fall Fellowship. We hope to see you there!

For those of you who are well versed in the ordeal experience, I invite you to come and see what new innovations we've got cooked up for this year. Make no mistake, this is a weekend of hard work and service, but nothing in life that's worthwhile ever came easy either. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me by e-mail at TCBY121@cs.com.

Elangomat Training

Are you a new Arrowman (youth or adult) who is looking to find a great way to get involved in the OA? Do you want to be a key part of Ordeals and the OA itself? Then sign up to become an Elangomat!

Elangomat's are very important in the OA. In fact, the Ordeals cannot function without them! As an Elangomat you will work at the Spring and Fall Ordeal and lead new Arrowmen into the OA..

Although guiding Ordeal Candidates into our beloved Order is an honor in and of itself, there are several other advantages to serving as an Elangomat. When you sign up as an Elangomat and come to the Ordeal you get: your Ordeal fee waived, a free T-shirt, great leadership training, and did we say it's a free pass into the Ordeal? To get involved, just call Patrick Canfield at (931) 358-3942 or e-mail him at PatRatz43@AOL.com

Somebody has to lead these guys through Ordeal weekend. Could that somebody be you??

Ceremonies Workshop Weekend to be held April 19-21

The Wdee and Allouchsit Chapters will be holding Ceremonies Workshops at Camp Stahlman at Boxwell Reservation on the weekend of April 19-21. All lodge members who are either on a ceremonies team or interested in being on a ceremonies team need to attend this event. We have had some problems in recent years fielding as many ceremonies teams as we have needed at our ordeals. So what's the solution? Well part of the problem lies in the fact that we have relied on potential team members to find a complete team. Many chapters have people who are interested in performing in ceremonies, but do not have enough to field a team, so no team is fielded. Well at this workshop, we are going to form teams from interested people regardless of if they are from the same chapter. If you come to this workshop, we will get you on a ceremonies team!

Well, maybe I'm interested, but I don't have the regalia, and I don't know the parts, and I can't string a bow, and I don't... Hold it right there. That's the kind of stuff we're going to do at the workshop. If you attend the workshop, you will come away a lean, mean, ceremony team machine! We will work on presentation, memorization skills, regalia, movements, setting up ceremony sites, and just about anything else that you can think of regarding ceremonies.

All interested parties are encouraged to attend the upcoming session to finely hone your skills. We need both youth and adults to get involved. For the adults, there is lots of behind the scenes prep work that goes into putting on good ceremonies. Your attendance at this event will help you help the boys!

In recent years, we have not been as competitive as we would like at conclave and NOAC in the ceremony competitions. Well that's about to change! With your help, we will be a contender in every ceremony competition we enter.

Registration will begin at 5:00 on Friday evening. The workshop will conclude at 10:00 Sunday morning. The cost is $20 for the weekend, which will cover all five meals from Friday supper until Sunday breakfast. There is no need to send the money into the scout office; just bring it with you to the workshops. Also, please note that this is a BYOT (bring your own tent) event.

If you have a couple of years of ceremony experience under your belt, whether it is recent (youth) or long ago (adults), we'd like your help as a staff member at these events. Please call Matt Lange at (615) 890-0914 or Diane Gregory at (615) 452-8266 with any questions you may have, or you can go online and send an e-mail to Diane Gregory at wbmamabear@aol.com.

American Indian Events such as drumming are an integral part of Wa-Hi-Nasa.

Upcoming Events!!!

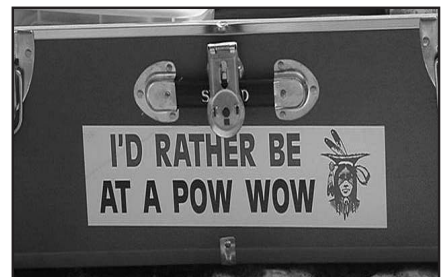

As you have seen in the Spring Ordeal Promotion, someone has to get the camp ready for the "Boys of Summer" to come in. But what about afterwards? Who takes it down? Well, that's you, all of the candidates, and me. The Fall Ordeal is pretty much the same as the Spring, except the work is a little different and it is on August 9-11 at Boxwell Scout Reservation. The candidates will do their share of the work, but you and I need to lead them. Come be a part of the biggest service event in the lodge!

The National Order of the Arrow Conference (NOAC) will be held on July 27th - August 1st in Bloomington, IN. NOAC is the ultimate OA event.

There is everything that makes the OA fun – sports such as basketball and volleyball, drumming and dancing, beadwork, training by some of the top OA brass in the nation, patch trading, and more fellowship than you can imagine. There is Founder's Day at which each lodge sets up a booth to show off their home state and their imagination. Did you ever see a really funny or imaginative TV commercial and think, "Who can think up such great stuff?" Well it must be these same Arowmen who come up with these great booths. We will stay in dorms, eat at the cafeteria, and live the college lifestyle for a week. This year, NOAC is particularly special. We represent the home lodge of the National Chief of the Order of the Arrow. Clay Capp, of Troop 221 in the West District, was elected National Chief in January. This is our year to show off the Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge to the entire nation! For those of you signed up for NOAC, we will be taking a chartered bus to Indiana University with a stop at Kentucky Kingdom Theme Park. If you would like to register for NOAC, or wish to find out more about it, please visit www.wa-hi-nasa.org for more information.

A Brief Lesson In Lodge History

And now for something completely different: The Flying Eagle staff is proud to introduce a new feature based on our rich Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge history. Below is a reproduction of the front page of the first issue of the Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge Newsletter, which was first published as the Bow and Arrow in October of 1955. We hope you enjoy this glimpse into the past!

MIDDLE TENNESSEE COUNCIL

OCTOBER MEETING

The October Meeting of the Wa-Hi-Nasa Lodge will be held at the B & W Cafeteria in Nashville on October 22nd. We will eat at 6:30 and the meeting will start at 7:00.

Please be present at this very important meeting. We will form our Committees as well as other important things at this meeting.

Yours in the Brotherhood,
Bob Alley
Netami Sakima

MINUTES OF SEPTEMBER MEETING

The September Meeting of our Lodge was held at the B & W Cafeteria in Nashville on September 17th.

The Meeting was opened in the sign of the first Ordeal by John Parish.

Mr. Parker told us about the service project at the new camp and urged our attendance. Mr. Beany Elam gave a very inspiring talk on the qualities of a good Boy Scout and O. A. member.

A Committee was appointed to nominate the four officers of our Lodge and then the boys they selected were voted on. The meeting was turned over to Bob Alley, the new chief and was closed with the singing of the Order of the Arrow Song.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Treasurer's Report for:

Liabilities	None
Assets	40.12 supplies, dues
Balance	- Cash on Hand 60.81
	Dash in Bank 14.32
	Supplies on Hand 375.13
	Total $ 450.26

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

At our last meeting four new officers were nominated and elected. They are as follows:

Chief: Bob Alley
Vice Chief: Bill Haralson
Scribe: Richard McWhorter
Treasurer: Jim Beasley

We wish these boys luck and hope they will be good Lodge officers.

COMMITTEES

At our next meeting we will form new Committees. Here is a list of the Committees and their duties. Be thinking about which ones you would like to be in. Everyone should join at least one.

American Indian Events Feature

by Randy Coats

Greeting Arrowmen! I'm Randy Coats, the new chairman for American Indian Events (A.I.E.). This next year will be a big year for A.I.E., and I think it will be all the better for the lodge and particularly the chapters. My committees' main goal for this year is to get the lodge as a whole re-interested in A.I.E. This resurgence will, hopefully, be helpful and educational, but I hope the chapters have a lot of fun with it too. But, in order for the chapters to be able to do new and creative things with regards to A.I.E. they first need to learn some new and creative things. A simple concept right?

The Chapters are what make or break a Lodge. If the Chapters have strong leadership, then things like the Quest for the Golden Arrow should be a walk in the park.

If our Lodge's ceremonies teams can make a great showing at Conclave, then so can our Dance and Drum teams. Making regalia within the Chapters and holding "Pow-wow's" can not only get people interested in the OA as a whole, but it can also get those guys no one has seen in a while back into the swing of things. But what if my chapter does not have the resources to make regalia or form a dance team? Well that we can fix.

At every event, there will be some kind of A.I.E. training, or pow-wow, where a chapter can go and learn more about what ever they need. Wa-hi-nasa is a big lodge, and somebody somewhere has the information you are looking for. And that is why A.I.E. is here. The information you need is out there, and we will get it to you. Look forward to seeing more articles about all things A.I.E. in future issues of the Flying Eagle.

Clay was elected the 2002 National Chief of the Order of the Arrow in January of this year.

Arrowman Spotlight

The Arrowman Spotlight is an article about OA members who have not been thoroughly recognized for their actions, though they have been exemplary and have provided service to the lodge.

T.J. Moore is unknown to many people, yet he follows the ideals of the OA to the highest degree. He is a 14-year-old freshman at Metro Baptist Christian School and a Life Scout in Troop 777. In his troop, he has served in almost every position and is currently Senior Patrol Leader. T. J. is also a Brotherhood member of the lodge. He has attended 95% of lodge events, and he worked at Pre-Conclave Workday. Additionally, he has been an Elangomant for the three years since he was inducted. In his chapter, T. J. has served as Unit Elections Chairman, on the ceremonies team, and as Wewoapisak's Chapter Secretary for the last two years.

Outside of scouting, T. J. has a wide range of activities that make him a very well rounded person. He has earned a black belt in karate and is an above average student who makes A's and B's. He enjoys playing basketball, too. His biggest hobby is computers, which he spends a lot of time on. T.J. is very fun to be around and very serious when it comes to getting things done. He exemplifies what a good Arrowman can be like, and that is why he is in the spotlight. Thanks, T.J., for your hard work and good spirit.

If you would like to nominate an Arrowman to be featured in the Spotlight, please email suggestions to the editor at flyingeagle@wa-hi-nasa.org.

Adviser's Corner

by Larry Carpenter

Those of you at the Winter Banquet heard me talk about some of the things I had learned about Napoleon and Wellington at the battle of Waterloo. At the recent Executive Committee Meeting, I spoke to the officers and committee chairman about something else I had learned about Napoleon while visiting the Waterloo battlefield in Belgium.

Prior to Waterloo, when things were going a bit better for Napoleon, he had conquered almost all of continental Europe. He sent one of his generals to take Austria. The general messed around, wasting time, marching his troops in all directions and fretting about having to oppose the enemy.

When he finally got up enough nerve to attack the Austrians, he was soundly defeated. When he returned to report on his defeat, Napoleon had only one thing to say. "If you are going to take Austria, take Austria."

You may be saying, "Huh?" I found out Napoleon said a lot of things that make me say, "Huh?" But this isn't one of them. He's pretty clear on this one. If you are going to do something, don't mess around, just do it!

That's sound advice for us today. As members of the Order of the Arrow, we have a lot of things we need to accomplish. This is true not just for the members of the Executive Committee, but for all of us. We are the Brotherhood of Cheerful Service. And there are a lot of services that need to be performed. So, if you have a task to be performed. Don't mess around. Determine what you need to do. Make a plan to get it done. Enlist the resources you need to get it accomplished. And then do it!

As you read through this issue of the Flying Eagle, you will see plenty of things that we need to get done. Going to Conclave and winning an unprecedented fourth Quest award is one of them. Going to NOAC and representing the best O. A. National Chief is another. And, shortly after that, we have our own Spring Ordeal coming up.

So as you prepare for the tasks ahead of you, keep in mind the advice from Napoleon. If you are going to do something, just do it!

Chapter News....

Allouchist Chapter - Warrioto

The Allouchist Chapter is up and running. We have already done one Arrow of Light ceremony and have three upcoming in February and two in March. We also have about six crossovers scheduled to date. We are looking forward to having a very busy year. The chapter is looking forward to OAU and Conclave, too. Also, the Allouchist and Wdee Chapters are sponsoring a Ceremonies Workshop on April 19-21 at Boxwell Reservation. It is open to anyone in the Lodge that is interested in being on a ceremonies crew.

Check out our new web page: www.wariotochapter.homestead.com If you have any questions, call Chief Daniel Bowman at (615) 452-6294 or e-mail at danielb_16@hotmail.com.

Anawaha Chapter - Cogioba

The Anawaha Chapter has been very busy for the last few months with various activities, including the election of our new officers the year 2002. They are as follows: Matt Heiss-Chapter Chief, Nate House-Vice Chief, Jeff Weber-Vice Chief, and Ryan Davidson- Secretary.

We are very proud of our chapter brothers that earned awards at the Winter Banquet. Once again our chapter has earned Honor Chapter within the lodge. The ceremonies team has been very busy working on their regalia.

The chapter is in the process of conducting unit elections, Mark Jones is working with other chapter members making sure that every troop holds their OA elections. The chapter will be hosting the Cogioba District Spring Camporee at Kyle Lake at Ft. Campbell, March 1-3. Call-outs will be conducted during the Saturday night campfire. If you have any questions, call Chief Matt Heiss at (931) 551-8130.

Cherokee Chapter - Cherokee

The Cherokee chapter is trying to get more members in our chapter. We are also trying to get 100% of eligible members to get their Brotherhood. At Winter Banquet, we received most improved chapter, and this year, we are trying to get Honor Chapter. If you have any questions about the Cherokee Chapter, please call Chief Seth Dobyns at (615) 870-5519.

Echota Chapter - West

The Echota Chapter has had two meetings since the Winter Banquet. At the first, Mr. Morris Smiley brought his collection of over 400 knives, which everyone really enjoyed. It was a fabulous program. The meeting was run with an agenda and everyone ended up with a great round of basketball.

Our chapter is making every attempt to double the number of troops which have the Chapter OA team come to Troop meetings to conduct elections. This is a big initiative and was the focus of the second meeting this year. Our Chief and Vice-Chief attended the West District Roundtable

Nendawen Chapter - Natchez Trace

The Nendawen Chapter is working hard to improve ourselves. In the next few months, we will be trying to raise the number of active chapter members. We will be moving our meeting to every third Thursday, 6:00, at Fourth Avenue Church of Christ. If you have questions, need directions, or wish to provide input (anyone from the lodge), please e-mail Chief David Allison on the World Wide Web at dallison@pipeline.coscc.cc.tn.us.

Wewoapisak Chapter - Hermitage

The Wewoapisak Chapter has just come off of a very productive year. We had nine representatives at Winter Banquet as well as nine Elangomats at the Spring Ordeal. We recently had our Chapter Planning and Training session and determined our chapter's goals. Lodge officers James Cartwright and Curtis Ruck were in attendance. We are going to assist in the Room at the Inn program on March 2.

We are happy to announce that we will be running our District's upcoming Spring Camporee, too. If you have any questions, call Chief Franklin Curtis at (615) 444-8051.
